2006 U.S. Congressional Candidate Survey

Powell Gammill
Senior editor, FreedomsPhoenix.com

1. Why are you seeking a seat in the House of Representatives?

Because the Republicans have been in charge of the federal budget for 12 years, and all 3 branches of government for 5 years. Yet we have a growing $46.4 trillion (U.S. Comptroller, 2005 est.) national debt, and budgets passed at over half a billion dollars in deficit annually adding onto that debt. We have a war and occupation of a nation that did us no harm. We have our freedoms being voted away at every turn. And we have Trent Franks unwavering support of this malfeasance. Vote for an incumbent unless you want things to change. Unfortunately the Washington Party offers no alternative candidates, other than two sides of a bad penny.

2. What further steps, if any, would you support the United States taking on the "War Against Terrorism?"

People in other nations want to kill us, not because of our freedoms, not because they wish to conquer us, and not because they believe in different things than we do, but because we are responsible for killing their loved ones and destroying their hopes and property. Mind our own business. Pull out of the UN and boot them out of the country. Bring ALL of our troops from around the world home. Stop interfering on other nation's affairs that do not directly effect us. Stop interfering in our private industry's business around the world. Repeal all laws that restrict or interfere with people's Rights. Impeach the President and Vice-President, and if convicted, shove them in communicado into a Suprmax prison without charge until they can be rendered to Iraq's system of justice. Apologize for being a bully. Freedom's the answer. What's the question?

3.A. What should Congress do, if anything, about generating an exit strategy from the war in Iraq?

Who will you allow to be killed or maimed while we delay the obvious and inevitable pull out? We should immediately announce we are withdrawing from Iraq. All our troops should begin the orderly march back to the southern ports for withdrawal by the Navy. This will take no more than 6 months. A civil war will now occur whether we are there or not. I vote not.

3.B. Does the U.S. have the ability to wage war on multiple fronts — Afghanistan and Iraq and potentially Iran, Pakistan and North Korea?

Certainly. But such action is always foolish. And what have those other nations done to us? In this case, we were attacked by terrorists operating out of Afghanistan. So we attack Iraq, a country that posed no threat to the USA. Why? Because the Bush Administration didn't care a bit about going after Osama bin Laden. But the Neocons had their pretext to set up bases in Iraq to keep Iraq's oil off the market and militarily control the Middle East, since Saudi Arabia was booting the us out of their nation. The blood is on our hands more than the terrorist's now. What are you going to do about it?

4. In building a wall at our borders a viable solution to illegal immigration? If not, what else should the United States be doing about the problem?

Only if Mexican's and Canadian's can't dig tunnels. When people talk of restricting the Right of people to travel to offer their labor and products to others they are artificially creating barriers to those goods and services. Which restricts the supply and drives prices of those goods and services higher. This makes the limited number of dollars the government has left in your wallet able to purchase less. Open the borders. Make your dollar go farther. Eliminate the costs of government (border patrol, fences). Protection from military invasion and U.S. citizenship, not immigration, is constitutionally a federal matter. All else is reserved to the states.

5. How can Arizona get more federal dollars to improve its transportation inadequacies — particularly widening of Interstate 10?

Since when is stealing money from people to pay for your transportation okay? Do you have a transportation problem? Then fix it. Don't go sniveling to the federal government to rob some more money from working people to pay for your wishes. Why not let the free market have an unfettered crack at it, just once?

6. What do you offer as a candidate that your opponents do not?

Freedom. You own your life. No one else does. [GammillForCongress.com] No person, nor group of people have claim on any part of your life, or the property you produce or accumulate over a life time of interacting in mutually consenting exchange. No matter how shiny their badge or fine their hats may be. Nor do you have claim on their life or property. No taxes. No laws beyond those that protect against some form of trespass on an individual. Freedom to be responsible for your own life. Vote your babysitters out.
